	TERONADO has raced at 1830m, 2350m & 1800m in his past 3 outings. Showed us something @ 1800m last start when 1.7 lens 3rd to Whip value elect Best Case. Drops to 1600m worries us today but the odds compensate. Non claiming apprentice James Orman retains the mount for the Gold Coast stable of Bruce Hill
	BECKHAM was too strong for them @ 1400m last start when Brad Stewart gave him a gun ride in 2nd throughout. It overtook Flamboyer (M. McGillivray) & held off a late challenge. The extra 200m worries us & so does the engagement of a 2k appr. in Matthew McGillivray. Does it lead or sit 2nd? Better if it leads for us
	LA SPIAGGIA jumps from a Bm75 where he finished 1.8lens 2nd @ this trip @ this track. Jeff Lloyd has the mount. Odds too short for us
	BODEGA NEGRA has been up forever and might need a break? Still the 6yo is at our required odds so a small bet is suggested.
	DOUBLE IMPACT is better suited @ this trip. Last 2 have been woeful efforts. Emma Ljung retains the mount & claims 3k once again
	JETSET LAD was just 1.5 lens 2nd to Best Case @ 1800m last start. Josh Oliver again onboard & his 3k claime is useful. Too short for us!

	TYCOON TARA came off an 11w let-up to score a win over Rebel Dane in Heavy10 conditions. Obviously, the Snowden camp have no problem with the mare otherwise they wouldn't be starting her. Kerrin McEvoy onboard replacing Blake Shinn. Still give in the track but has won 5 times on Good surfaces & has won 2nd up
	GENERALIFE comes into this event following a break of 23 weeks. The O'Shea trained 7yo has won twice first-up in the past and recent barrier trials should be enough to have him ready for today's return. Brenton Avdulla onboard. The early odds are brilliant in our view. Top two look great value at this stage
	LE ROMAIN resumes from a 22w spell for the Kris Lees establishment. The Hard Spun 4yo gelding won first-up on resuming back in Jan and with anticapped WFA advancement, he could salute again. Christian Reith gains the mount and he's been successful on the gelding back in March @ this track

	MOUNT NEBO has been up since June and we don't anticipate any improvement for today's run. Watch prices closer to start time. Jason Collett onboard for the Alan Denham Wyong stable.
	MESSENE resumes from a 3mth spell for the Hawkes stable. The Lonhro 8yo can run well fresh and on past performances we simply cannot rule him out. Tommy Berry gains the mount.
	DECISION TIME seems to be on a bit of an improvement cycle even though the Conners trained 9yo has been up for ages.

	WINX resumes from a 20w spell for the Waller establishment. Should be too good for this lot if she returns similar first-up ratings achieved back in Feb.16. With expected WFA improvement (from 4 – 5yo), she should be even stronger this time in. Hugh Bowman is confident the mare has done enough work.
	LUCIA VALENTINA is the only possible concern to the champion mare. This Kris Lees trained 6yo also resumes from a spell. Classy type but might need more time and longer trips before reaching her peak. Early odds are too short.
	REBEL DANE is going to be nicely improved by his first-up 2 nd to Tycoon Tara in the Missile Stakes a fortnight back. The mares look to have her measure and the early odds are too low for us anyway.

	PILOTE D'ESSAI was a little slow to get into top gear first-up over the 1400m trip @ Flemington. The Hayes/Dabernig trained 5yo import should improve nicely. Has the services of Dwayne Dunn once again. Although we expect improvement, there are no guarantees as the 2 nd up syndrome could rear its ugly head?
	ONPICALO should go straight to the lead and with the 3k claim for Beau Mertens, he cannot be ruled out.
	PEMBERLEY – outside chance		CHILL PARTY – outside chance & early odds look very attractive for a smaller saver type bet. Just how forward is the former smart type?
	ROYAL RAPTURE – outside chance		MAJESTIC DUKE – outside chance

	SIGNOFF resumes from a 24w spell for the Darren Weir stable. The 7yo was a big winner of the Lord Reims Stks @ 2600m @ this track in March. May find the 1400m a bit too short but with the anticipated Heavy8 conditions, this race may turn out to be more like a 1600m contest. Harry Coffey rides Weir horses very well RUNWAY STAR did well enough last outing which followed a 10w let-up. Can and should be nicely improved by the run. Ran a bold 2 nd in Heavy9 as a younger horse so we cannot discount him. The distance could be his main concern as he's never raced @ the 1400m trip before. Early odds are far too low.
	ULMANN is another Darren Weir runner and he's been installed the early fav. by other analysts. His last three runs have been very solid without showing us any significant improvement in ratings? If he doesn't improve today on a strange track, then he's a bad value conveyance in our book. John Allen to ride.
	ROCKET COMMANDER – cannot rule out. Looks to be nicely above our required price
	RIZIZ – is on the improve and we cannot rule him out. Early odds far too low for us.

This is our recommended approach when attacking First4 investments.

From the above race we look at the odds on offer compared to Our Prices (Whip Prices). Those equal to or above our required odds turn into your Banker or Standout horses. In this event No.1 Signoff was value, No.13 Rocket Commander value & No.8 Gamblin' Guru was value. Then go to the Rec. Bet (Recommended Bet) column and follow this advice for your individual First4's

To get the lowest % possible on TAB's of 1% we had to spend $9 which is over double the Rec. Bet so we moved to the next ratio TREBLE the Rec.Bet for our outsider No.4 Gamblin Guru. Some TAB's allow fractions of a % but ALL insist it must be at least 1% We do the same with all the other VALUE chances (TREBLE their Rec. Bet) to achieve close to a Betting To Chances professional approach. Profit is your objective whether you're a big punter or a small punter. It's return on your investment that matters.

First4's are not easy but we think if you limit them to the large fields (13 minimum) & go where the largest pools are, then you can profit i.e. PROVIDING you have a set of INDIVIDUALLY sourced prices that attempt to highlight the TRUE value i.e. a price you should achieve on each horse in the race. We've been doing this for over 20 years so you can be confident that we've done our homework.

	SHIRAZ comes into the event following a 20w spell for the Tony McEvoy Flemington stable. This is his first test on the turning Moonee Valley circuit & we've taken this into account in his pricing. However, he's won 4 from 6 first-up and we have to assume this track will not be a major concern. Luke Currie onboard today
	HEATHERLY is another resuming from a spell. The Ellerton / Zahra trained 4yo has been off the scene for 6 months but his record fresh is solid. Damian Lane has the mount for his return.
	ATMOSPHERICAL did very well first-up when just 1.8 lens 3 rd behind Wild Rain @ 1100m @ Caulfield. If the Robert Smerdon trained 6yo can improve on this, then we simply cannot rule him out. Has been given a 5w freshening to today's contest. This has been a deliberate tactic by the stable to keep him fresh.
	VIDDORA won at Morphettville over the 1050m trip run in Soft6 conditions. The Lloyd Kennewell trained 4yo should improve on that rating 2 nd up but will it be enough to win this? Early odds are close to ours so if this drifts, then we certainly will jump onboard. Joe Bowditch is over from SA to ride replacing M. Neilson.
	GENERAL TRUCE carried 58.5k last start and finished just 2.45 lens 5 th behind Wild Rain. His ratings 2 runs prior when he beat Bullpit over this trip @ Flemington, clearly qualifys him for this contest. Has won twice on this track and over this trip. Andrew Mallyon rides him well.
